WASHINGTON, D. C.

PROSPECTUS OF THE EIGHTH VOLUME OF THE NATIONAL ERA.

G. BAILEY, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.
JOHN G. WHITTIER, CORRESPONDING EDITOR.
WASHINGTON, D. C.

The National Era is a weekly newspaper, devoted to Literature and Politics.
In Literature, it is a time to unite the beautiful with the true, and to make both immediately subservient to the practical purposes of everyday life.
In Politics, it advocates the Rights of Man, and the Equality of Rights, and opposes whatever violates or tends to violate them, whether they be involuntary Personal Servitude, Civil Despotism, Spiritual Abolitionism, Class Legislation, the Selfishness of Capital, the Tyranny of Combination, the Oppression of a Majority, or the Exactions of a Party.

It holds no fellowship with the Whig and Democratic organizations, believing that the main issues on which they have been arrayed against each other are obsolete or settled, and that they are now chiefly used by the Sectional interests of Slavery, to impair the love of Liberty natural to the American mind, and to subjugate the American People to its rule. Disclaiming all connection with them, it yet sympathizes with those of their adherents who are honestly seeking through them to advance the substantial interests of the country, although it must believe that they have not chosen the better way.

It is a supporter of the Independent Democracy, which holds that the Truths of the Declaration of Independence are practical, that in their light the Constitution of the United States is to be interpreted, that to them the laws and institutions and usages of the country should be conformed. Party, whose motto is, Union, not for the sake of Union, but for the sake of Freedom and Progress; and Law, not for the sake of Law, but for the Protection of Human Rights and Interests—the only more foundation of order and concord.

In no sense is it the organ of a Party, or a mere Party Paper, but absolutely "free and independent," claiming to speak "by authority" for nobody except its editor, and recognizing no authority in any quarter to prescribe its course and policy.

The Eighth Volume of the Era will commence on the first of January ensuing, and be enlarged by the addition of four columns. We have neglected no means that could promise to make it an agreeable companion for the Household, and an efficient coadjutor to the enlightening of Politician. It has secured able correspondents at home and abroad, and no journal in the country can surpass the Era as it respects contributors to its Literary Department.

The Era publishes condensed reports of the proceedings of Congress, explains movements in that body, the causes of which do not always lie upon the surface, and from its position is enabled to keep a constant watch upon the action of the Federal Government in relation to all questions at issue between Liberty and Slavery.

The only journal at the seat of the Federal Government, representing the Anti-Slavery Sentiment of the Republic, while the Pro-Slavery sentiment is represented here by four columns, a club of five, two of whom may be old ones, at $8, to a copy for six months; a club of ten, five of whom may be old ones, at $15, to a copy for one year.

When a club of subscribers has been forwarded, additions may be made to it, on the same terms.

Money to be forwarded by mail at our risk. Large amounts may be remitted in drafts or certificates of deposit. When money is sent, notes on the Banks of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, or Baltimore, are preferred. New England notes are at a discount from New York State notes, and these less than Western notes.

All communications to the Era, whether on business of the paper or for publication, should be addressed to G. BAILEY, Washington, D. C.

Human Rights and Interests—the only sure foundation of order and concord.

In no sense will it be the organ of a Party, or a mere Party Paper, but absolutely "free and independent," claiming to speak "by authority" for nobody except its editor, and recognizing no authority in any quarter to prescribe its course and policy.

In Literature, it will aim to unite the beautiful with the true, and to make both immediately subservient to the practical purposes of everyday life.

Able correspondents, at home and abroad, have been secured, and ample provision has been made for its Literary Miscellany.

It will publish condensed reports of the proceedings of Congress, explain movements in that body, the causes of which do not always lie upon the surface, and from its position is enabled to keep a constant watch upon the action of the Federal Government in relation to all questions at issue between Liberty and Slavery.

The extensive subscription of the Weekly Era, which, during the year about to close, has reached the number of twenty-eight thousand, must make it an eligible medium for advertisers.

The Daily Era will be issued on a sheet as large as that of the Daily National Intelligencer, on the 24 day of January, 1854, and daily thereafter, until the 1st of September, 1854, (or long or short Congress continue in session), at five dollars per year, in advance, and should the result then warrant, the publication will be resumed on the 1st of September following, by the year.

As but sixteen days intervene between this and the 24 of January, it is important that subscriptions be forwarded at once.

Payment in advance will be invariably required.

INDEPENDENT DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

ADOPTED AT PITTSBURGH, AUGUST 12, 1852.

Having assembled in National Convention as the delegates of the Free Democracy of the United States, united by a common resolve to maintain right against wrongs, and freedom against slavery; confiding in the intelligence, patriotism, and the discriminating justice of the American people; putting our trust in God for the triumph of our cause, and invoking his guidance in our endeavors to advance it, we now submit to the candid judgment of all men the following declaration of principles and measures:

I. That Governments, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, are instituted among men to secure to all those inalienable rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, with which they were endowed by their Creator, and of which none can be deprived by valid legislation, except for crime.

II. That the true mission of American Democracy is to maintain the liberties of the people, the sovereignty of the States, and the perpetuity of the Union, by the impartial application to public affairs, without sectional discriminations, of the fundamental principles of equal rights, strict justice, and economical administration.

III. That the Federal Government is one of limited powers, derived solely from the Constitution; and the grants of power therein ought to be strictly construed by all the departments and agents of the Government, and it is inexpedient and dangerous to exercise doubtful constitutional powers.

IV. That the Constitution of the United States, ordained to form a more perfect Union, to establish justice, and secure the blessings of liberty, expressly denies to the General Government all power to deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; and, therefore, the Government, having no more power to make a slave than to make a king, and no more power to establish slavery than to establish monarchy, should at once proceed to relieve itself from all responsibility for the existence of slavery wherever it possesses constitutional power to legislate for its extinction.

V. That, to the persevering and important demands of the Slave Power for more slave States, new slave Territories, and the nationalization of Slavery, our distinct and final answer is—no more slave States, no slave Territory, no nationalized Slavery, and no national legislation for the extradition of slaves.

VI. That Slavery is a sin against God and a crime against man, which no human enactment nor usage can make right; and that Christianity, humanity, and patriotism, alike demand its abolition.

VII. That the fugitive Slave Act of 1850 is repugnant to the Constitution, to the principles of the common law, to the spirit of Christianity, and to the sentiments of the civilized world. We therefore deny its binding force upon the American People, and demand its immediate and total repeal.

VIII. That the doctrine that any human law is a finality, and not subject to modification or repeal, is not in accordance with the creed of the founders of our Government, and is dangerous to the liberties of the people.

IX. That the acts of Congress known as the Compromise Measures of 1850, by making the admission of a sovereign State contingent upon the adoption of other measures demanded by the special interest of Slavery; by their omission to guarantee freedom in free Territories; by their attempt to impose unconstitutional limitations on the power of Congress and by their provisions for the assumption of five millions of the State debt of Texas, and for the payment of five millions more, and the cession of a large territory to the same State under menace, as an inducement to the relinquishment of a groundless claim, and by their invasion of the sovereignty of the States and the liberties of the people, through the enactment of an unjust, oppressive, and unconstitutional Fugitive Slave Law, are proved to be inconsistent with all the principles and maxims of Democracy, and wholly inadequate to the settlement of the questions of which they are claimed to be an adjustment.

A New and Improved Volume. WOODWORTH'S YOUTH'S CABINET enters upon the Ninth Year of its publication, with the January Number. This Magazine has acquired the name of the "Young People's Favorite." It has become a household word. Its articles comprise an almost endless variety, all, whether grave or humorous, adapted to instruct as well as to amuse. The whole pervaded by an air of purity and healthful morality.

FRANCIS C. WOODWORTH. Author of "Uncle Ben's House Stories," "Theodore Thinker's Tales," "Stories about Animals," &c. is still the Editor. The January number contains a choice variety of articles, including some of the best Poems, published in the United States. The Portraits of Washington Irving, Daniel Webster on his Farm, and a host of others; among which is our Frontispiece, executed at great expense, in the highest style of the art. The picture is a perfect gem, itself worth the price of the entire volume.

Information for Married or Single Ladies. ALABASTER STARCH GLOSS.—The most pure, glossy, and finest, snow-white starch, is the world. The cost of this starch is about the same, as common starch, the entire cost not exceeding five cents per quart, and is made just as quick. It preserves the clothes, and gives them a glossy and unexcelled appearance, that no other starch can do. This is an entirely new discovery, and the first time ever offered to the public. I ask a few of only one dime for putting the knowledge how to make this starch, and I expect to make more out of it at that low price than I could by selling it to a few of the rich for five dollars, which has been done. Now, ladies and gentlemen, send us your names, and get this information, which some of you would not be without for fifty times its cost. Copy the address, and send for the information when you have leisure. Better pay postage in advance, by sending a stamp along with the dime. Address, post paid. MRS. ANNETTA LA SHAW, Xenia, Ohio.
